

I think it is a violation of campaign finance law and should be stopped or punished if it is carried out. Equal time is supposed to be given for political candidates to have their rebuttal, and unless an Anti-Bush Documentary follows, this is inappropriate.